NOW FOR THE BATTLE

The Congressional Campaign Will Open Monday.

ROBERT W. TAYLER WILL DO IT

In the Little Town of Wilmott, in Stark County—Reed May Not Be Here—East Liverpool to Have its Share of Meetings.

The congressional campaign will open in this district next Monday evening, and from then until election day the candidates will be using their best efforts in the battle for votes.

The lateness of the day can be blamed upon Democracy, as R. W. Tayler could not well move in the battle until he knew there was a clearly defined line of action on the part of his opponents. Now they have not only put Edward J. Raff in the field, but have denounced Brice and endorsed poverty in the form of Cleveland's administration, giving him an opportunity to riddle their old craft as it floats, waterlogged, on the congressional waters of the Eighteenth district. The Democrats have also prepared for the contest, but in that listless, halfhearted manner so popular with members of their party when defeat stares them in the face and they know the facts cannot be averted. They are going into the fight beaten before the start is well in hand, and not a few of the leaders seem to realize the position. First, the peculiar methods adopted by the congressman whom they had elected tore down party spirit, but when they discovered that their faith in such leaders as Brice was gone they had little to say of Democracy. Then came Coxey to worry them, and there was a deadly fear that he would blaze in triumph for a sufficient length of time to put him in congress. When the fear that he would be endorsed at the convention passed away there was still the Republican line of battle to face, and it is this that takes the heart from within them, and permits of such lifeless movements as mark the early days of the campaign.

On the other hand the Republicans are ready for battle. The candidates have gird themselves roundabout with the right and are ready for the conflict. Realizing that the people are with them, they are going to fight with a light heart and a glad-some face. They do not fear Democracy any more than they fear Coxey, and the latter institution has long since ceased to be even a rambling consideration as regards the result of the ballot. Next Monday evening Robert W. Tayler, he who upholds the Republican banner, will open his campaign in the village of Wilmott, Stark county. They have been wanting to hear him over there, and he will not let this opportunity go by. From that evening to the end of the campaign Mr. Tayler will dispense pure Republican doctrine throughout the district, and will be heard in this county. Eleven speeches are his apportionment for Columbiana, and one of them will be delivered in this city. In speaking of the matter to a NEWS REVIEW man late yesterday evening Mr. Tayler was unable to name the date, it not having been selected at that time. He will also speak in all of the large towns, and some of the smaller ones, covering the ground as completely as it is possible for one man to do. During the campaign Mr. Tayler will not go out of the district to speak, but will confine his efforts in the three counties he will represent when elected to congress. His success as a speaker is so well known that there will doubtless be a large crowd to hear him in this city.

There will be a number of celebrities in Ohio this year to help the cause along, but Tom Reed is not expected to speak in this district. His other engagements in different parts of the country will not admit of his spending any time here, although there are few spots in Ohio where he could be more successful. The power of the great parliamentarian is needed in West Virginia and some of the close districts of New York to bring down some of the leaders, and there he will use his force. Mr. Tayler said yesterday afternoon to a NEWS REVIEW representative that he did not believe Tom Reed would be here. Governor McKinley, however, is expected, and will likely be here, as he never misses the Ceramic City in his tours. Some big Democrats will be along also, but who they are no one can tell. If Coxey carries out his promise to bring some of the big Populist guns to the district there will be fun indeed, but the impression prevails that Bloody Bridles Waite and Sarah Yellen Leese are so badly needed at home that they can not spare the time for trifling with the commonwealer. This phase of Coxey's campaign seems to have dwindled to the size of the crowds, and the contest will as usual be with a strong lead for the Republicans. It is to be regretted, however, that Coxey did not carry out his threat and bring Colorado's governor with his Kansas supporter here, for they are lights which bid fair to flicker and die with this campaign. He shows his wisdom, however, since their presence here would have done nothing more than cost a lot of money, resulting in no other good than giving the public a hearty laugh.

NEWS FROM LISBON.

The Weary Grind of the County Courts Goes Merrily On.

NEW LISBON, Sept. 20.—A transcript appealing the case of Fred Burgeymeyer against May Kambles, from Justice Riley's court, of Wellsville, was filed here in common pleas court today. The case was tried there this month, the plaintiff recovering judgment against the defendant for $10.85 and $3.30 costs, claimed by him for rent and gas furnished her.

An application was filed with Judge Young today for the appointment of a guardian for Willie Whitesall, an alleged imbecile from Middleton township. Sept. 24, was set for hearing the application. The return of the appraisal and sale of the real estate in the case of Attorney Rice, assignee, versus Lewis C. Williams and others, was filed and the same confirmed and a deed ordered made to the purchaser, Mary Williams. Distribution of the proceeds was also made. The second account of R. S. Chamberlain, as guardian of Fannie and Carrie Chamberlain were filed and set for hearing on Oct. 26.

Two additional marriage licenses were issued today for the following parties: Willard C. Bowman and Ida L. Robinson; Henry Jackson and Kate Bartholomew.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

Central Committee Meets and Selects Officers.

There was a full attendance at the meeting of the central committee which was held last night, although it had been announced by mistake for Friday evening.

The election of officers and a new executive committee was the most important business before the body. W. L. Smith was chosen president; J. N. Hanley, secretary; A. W. Thomas, treasurer. The executive committee is as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Harry Meanor; second, Daniel Nellis; third, Thomas May. Second ward—First precinct, A. R. Mackall; second, John N. Smith. Third ward—First precinct, George H. Owens; second, Joseph Manor. Fourth ward—First precinct, Milton Logan; second, Harry Williams. Township, Joseph Smith.

The members of the central committee outlined the campaign work partially, proposing to make matters interesting during the coming political season. The meeting adjourned to meet again on Oct. 3, and regularly every Wednesday evening thereafter during the campaign.

The Story of Mrs. Wilcox.

Mrs. Wilcox, whose husband was in the court of Squire Rose yesterday to answer a charge of non-support, has a suit for divorce pending in the courts of Allegheny county, Pa., at the present time. She stated last evening that she had stopped his pension because it was of no use to him, and he was spending it rapidly. They have been married for 26 years, but have not lived together for almost two years. They have a son who is grown to manhood, and one other child living, and did not live happily together for some time before the separation. When Mrs. Wilcox came into some property not long ago she lost no time in using a part of it for the purpose of securing a divorce, but she has been delayed because her husband was out of the state, and she could not get service on him. She expects to have all things settled soon, and left for Pittsburg last night. Her case here was compromise last night.

There will be a number of celebrities in Ohio this year to help the cause along, but Tom Reed is not expected to speak in this district. His other engagements in different parts of the country will not admit of his spending any time here, although there are few spots in Ohio where he could be more successful. The power of the great parliamentarian is needed in West Virginia and some of the close districts of New York to bring down some of the leaders, and there he will use his force. Mr. Tayler said yesterday afternoon to a NEWS REVIEW representative that he did not believe Tom Reed would be here. Governor McKinley, however, is expected, and will likely be here, as he never misses the Ceramic City in his tours. Some big Democrats will be along also, but who they are no one

Cholera Infantum's Work.
The 14-months-old child of Herbert Horsey died at 4 o'clock this morning after a brief illness with cholera infantum. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Jefferson street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. Whitehead officiating. Interment will be made in Riverview cemetery.

PRINTERS WILL FIGHT

And Trades Council Will Stand With Them.

A TEST CASE TO BE MADE of the Injunction Served by the Crisis—Colonel Hill and Another Good Attorney Will Look After the Interests of Labor, and an Interesting Legal Battle is Expected.

Trades council held a meeting last night, and decided to employ the best attorneys obtainable, and make the boycott of the Crisis a test case in the courts of this county.

The printers who instituted the boycott, and upon whom a temporary injunction was served Monday of this week, were informed that the council was with them, and would stand by their cause until the court decided that all the allegations set forth in that petition were wrong or that they were true and the battle would go on.

They have employed Col. H. R. Hill to conduct the case, and will have another prominent attorney to act in conjunction with him. At first it was thought best to seek a man outside of the county, but it is likely that they will stay at home, and use the legal talent to be found here. The council also decided to admit the musicians union to membership. This has been a disputed question for some time, as the claim is made that the organization was not a real labor union, and many have been the debates upon the subject. The union will have delegates at the next meeting.

A special from New Lisbon this morning puts a new light on the fight of the Crisis and shows that the paper is resorting to deception in order to put its case before the public. The county seat authority says that the article published in the paper as a restraining order almost before the order was granted is not what was served on William Ruhe, Criss McConnell and U. G. King. The published matter is almost an exact copy of the famous injunctions issued by the courts at Chicago during the big strike there, while the order of Judge Billingsley is entirely different. There was a general smile about the courthouse when it became known that the paper, anticipating the action of the court, had printed an order which the court did not grant in those words.

Cured Him.

It was in one of the potteries the other day that a man who imagines he is funny was cured of cracking chestnuts of uncertain age. The boys had long been tortured by his time worn gags, and they prepared themselves for him. It was not long after they had started until the funny man asked: "Say, did you hear of the great race?" From the crowd came a chorus, "Human race," "Go soak your head," "Go lay down," "Give us something a few years younger," etc., and from under the work benches came three or four old cow bells, which had been laid away in anticipation of just such an occasion. It is stated on good authority that the funny man hasn't cracked a joke since.

A Burial Plot.

A committee of Odd Fellows are arranging for the purchase of a burial plot in Riverview cemetery. It consists of three lots on the south side of the circle, and in one of the most desirable parts of the beautiful cemetery. It is the purpose of the order to bury such of their members as desire it in this place, and the plot will always be kept with scrupulous care. There are a number of Odd Fellows buried in the old cemetery, and it is thought that if their friends will not have the bodies removed the order will take that action.

A River Gunboat.

Negotiations have been pending for some time between the owners of the steamer Bachelor and Pennsylvania for the purchase of the boat and its transformation into a cruiser of the most approved pattern. The plan is to remove the upper works, and rebuild the boat like a modern man-of-war. Armor plate will be donated by the Carnegie company, and business men in Pittsburgh have promised enough to buy the boat. While there is no use for a cruiser on the river it is intended to use the boat for the naval reserve.

That Debate.

The arrangements for the series of debates between D. J. Smith and Candidate Coxey have not yet been made, and there may be some hitch before the events take place. The Prophet of Pisgah is ready for the fray, and desirous of having them take place as soon as possible, but it is believed that Coxey has been making a few inquiries and now knows what he is to meet. Mr. Smith insists that he is neither a curiosity or a mountebank, and will not speak in a tent, while Coxey insists that he must have his circus with him or he will not talk. It is hoped that the debates will take place.

STUBBORN FIRE.

A Bad Blaze in Albright's Drug Store Causes Considerable Damage.

About 4 o'clock this afternoon fire was discovered in the rear of Albright's drug store and an alarm brought the department out. At the hour of going to press the firemen are still fighting the blaze but have it under control.

A Simple Warning.

If the gentleman with fringe on his face, who smokes a combination of hoop skirts and dried skunk cabbage under our office window each evening as we are busily engaged in compiling copy, will kindly call at his leisure, we will be pleased to give him some of our choice Havana scrap, or if he prefers he can partake of the contents of our trusty shotgun. All is not tobacco that smokes. A word to the foot-handy is often more preferable than the laying on of hands, while a change of tobacco in time may save a visit from the doctor.

The Driver Was Drunk.

A farmer residing in the country a few miles back from the river came to town yesterday, and after getting on a glorious drunk started for home. Had he succeeded in getting the horse in the same condition he would have wandered home without trouble. Instead the animal was lively, and finding that the driver was not controlling him ran away. The wagon was broken, the driver thrown out, and several dollars in groceries scattered over the road. Fortunately the man was not hurt beyond a cut on the face.

Rioting River Boats.

Some of the packets which ply the Ohio when there is enough water, are being painted and gilded to the point of perfection. The boats have been out so long that the owners found it necessary to give them a complete overhauling. Among the number is the Iron Queen, the finest boat on the river, and she will look handsomer than ever when she gets out of the painter's hands. The river is rising steadily, and a good stage of water is expected, as it has been raining in the mountains.

The Ware Is Going Out.

Some of the potteries are working overtime to fill orders, and others have all they can do to keep even with the demands for ware. Goods are going out in great quantities, and almost every pottery has its hands full looking after orders. Some of these were piled up during the strike, while others have come in since the price of ware dropped. Almost all the ware being made is going out, and the general belief is expressed that the Liverpool potteries will have no more large stocks.

The Blow Gun.

Small boys have different sports for different moods and at present it seems that the youth who can not own a blow gun is unworthy of association with his friends. The guns are hollow tubes of tin, perhaps a foot in length, and the bullet is a pea or piece of putty. A crowd of youngsters armed with these weapons were seen on Washington street last night, bombarding everyone who came in range. The guns are harmless toys for the boys who handle them.

Met Death by Accident.

The sensational Beaver county reporters who did all in their power to show that Rheinheimer was murdered at Beaver Falls, have come down to earth and now affirm that all the money which he was supposed to possess at the time of his death has been accounted for. The wild stories of murder for money have died away, and the general belief is expressed that the unfortunate man was struck by a train.

Will Preach Sunday.

Rev. John Lloyd, Ph. D., the minister whose sermons were so pleasing to the large number of persons at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday, will preach at the church morn-ing and evening next Sunday.

Those Who Are Ill.

Captain Palmer is confined to his home battling with a threatened attack of the fever.

Mrs. J. E. McDonald is ill at her home in Thompson place, the result of a severe cold.

SLIP HOUSE FLOODED

A Five Inch Pipe Lets go at Laughlin's.

A DEFECTIVE JOINT IS CLAIMED

Although Who is to Blame is Another Matter—The Shop Deluged and Considerable Damage Done—A Similar Burst at the Goodwin Pottery.

There was plenty of excitement at the Laughlin pottery this morning and when it was all over the place looked as if it had been visited by a cyclone.

The trouble was the bursting of a water pipe in the slip house. The pipe was a part of the line which supplied the fire extinguishing apparatus, and there are some who have not always considered it secure. Suddenly while all the workmen were busily engaged this morning the five inch pipe let go and the shop was deluged in an instant. Water covered everything in sight and the men vacated the place in a hurry. As soon as possible the stream was shut off from another part of the line, but not before considerable damage had been done. Then it was necessary to remove a portion of the roof to make repairs, and water from nature's reservoir aided in making matters unpleasant.

It will be some time before everything can be cleaned up as before, and the injury done cannot be written in very small figures.

An accident almost similar but less expensive occurred at Goodwin's the other day, a pipe bursting near the kilns and making matters interesting for those in the vicinity.

The Trades and Labor Council of East Liverpool, in full session assembled, warmly advocates the News Review as the only paper in this City of East Liverpool employing union labor exclusively and advocating the cause of legitimately and legally organized labor.

The News Review believes in fair play—Justice to workmen and employers alike—and will stand or fall on this platform. Fair play is a jewel of untarnished and undimmed lustre, and all citizens will receive fair play in these columns.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, SEPT. 20.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Secretary of State.
S. M. TAYLOR.

Judge of Supreme Court,
JOHN A. SHAUK.

Member of Board of Public Works,
CHARLES J. GRACE.

Commissioner of Schools,
O. J. CARSON.

Congressman,
R. W. TAYLER.

Prosecuting Attorney,
C. S. SPEAKER.

Commissioner,
SAMUEL BYE.

Industry Director,
O. D. FILSON.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
of Ohio.

EVEN board signs have been shown to fail in such weather.

THE man who will support Robert W. Taylor at the polls will in reality be voting for himself.

WHEN Bob Taylor goes to congress he will have a word or two to say about the duty on crockery.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY is a presidential possibility because he is a statesman worthy of holding the position. There is no demagogue in the governor of Ohio.

COXEY is in Columbian county, but the people are not straining to hear him. The movement received a hard blow when Carl Brown came home from Washington.

JONES SHOULD RESIGN.

We of the east have little to do with Jones, the Nevada senator, who was once a Republican but now poses as a Populist, but we can not refrain from wishing that he would resign his position. If he loves the dollars he accumulates from his silver mine more than he does his party he is not the man to sit in the senate, and his Nevada friends did the right thing by asking him to resign. If he does not take the hint, and disclaim any place in congress he should be taken by the expansive bosom of his expensive trousers and kicked out of the party. Mr. Jones may be a good man, he may even possess those qualities which go to make up the legislator, but he is neither honorable nor true. The Republican party gave him that position, and when he accepted it he did so with the assurance that his course would be the course of the party. Since he has forsaken his friends he can not object if his friends forsake him. That chair belongs to some Republican voter, and Jones is an interloper as long as he remains.

ONE MORE VICTORY.

Within seven weeks the world will know how Ohio observes Grover Cleveland and his congress. If our people desire repetition on the basis laid down by reform legislation every congressman pledged to change the tariff laws will receive a handsome majority, but if the public have had enough of this nuisance the Republicans will win everywhere, and by a surplus which can not but tell the story more eloquent than words.

Even now the Democrats are attempting to pin the shattered remnants of their party together and prepare for action. According to custom it will be the same old story of misrepresentation, but even Democracy must put its best foot forward to deceive the people this year. It remains for all men who have been watching the poverty producing policy of the party to array themselves against its candidates. Then all the deception and falsehood, it matters not how thickly it is plastered on, will do no other good than prove to an observing public that the Republican argument is true as the day is long. Let every man step into line determined to do his duty, and one more victory greater even than the majority of Governor McKinley, will have been won for protection.

A RELIGIOUS QUARREL

School Closed Because a Catholic Teacher Is Hired.

A. P. A. AND O. U. A. M. OBJECTED.

Members of the Latter Order Refused to Allow a Flag Raised Over the Schoolhouse Where a Catholic Is Employed. A Suit Threatened.

AMESBURY, Mass., Sept. 20.—Ohio division of the grammar school at Amesbury has been closed as the result of a religious quarrel precipitated by the appointment of Miss Isabelle Cavanaugh, a Catholic, as a teacher. She was engaged on Monday and strenuous objections were at once made by prominent members of the American Protective association.

The local branch of the American Mechanics also objected and say they will not allow the American flag, which was presented to the school by the order, to be hoisted over the school building until the new teacher is discharged. The committee therefore closed Miss Cavanaugh's division until the trouble is settled. She threatens to sue the town if discharged.

Masons Elect Officers.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—The Supreme Council of Sovereign Grand Inspectors General for the Thirty-third degree Scottish Rite Masons has elected these officers: Sovereign grand commander, Henry L. Palmer, Milwaukee; grand lieutenant commander, Charles L. Woodbury, Boston; grand treasurer, General Newton D. Arnold, Providence; grand secretary, General Clinton F. Paige, New York; grand minister of state, General Samuel C. Lawrence, Boston; grand keeper of the archives, Lucius B. Paige, Cambridge; grand master general of ceremonies, Charles McClenachan, New York; grand marshal general, Robert E. Patterson, Philadelphia; grand standard bearer, William H. Highley, Bridgeport, Conn.; grand captain of guard, George Otis Tyler, Burlington, Vt.; assistant grand secretary, Joseph P. Abet, New York; grand prior, Rev. Josiah L. Seward, Lowell, Mass.

Happy Over Breckinridge's Defeat.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 20.—Mrs. F. K. Hunt, the venerable president of the Woman's Anti-Breckinridge association of Lexington, has received a letter from Miss Mary Desb, sister-in-law of Colonel Breckinridge, now residing in Washington, from which the following extract is taken: "I will probably never see you again on this earth and I want to tell you how much I thank you for what you have done in defeating the man who has disgraced the Ashland district. You at home can hardly realize how we have felt here. There was universal rejoicing when the result was known."

Incorporated in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—The following articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the secretary of state: Christ Congregational church, Cleveland; Kerlin Bros., Co., Toledo, capital stock $10,000; New London Electric Light company, New London, capital stock $4,000; Mehling Manufacturing company, Cleveland, capital stock $15,000; Euclid Heights company, Cleveland, capital stock $40,000.

Accused of Stealing Coal.

WASHINGTON, C. H., Sept. 20.—Warrants have been issued by Squire Cheney for the arrest of 25 residents of Henkle's addition to the southern part of town on affidavits sworn out by Detective Charles Reifsnyder, in the employ of the Ohio Southern railroad, who is also a United States deputy marshal, charging them with stealing coal from Ohio Southern.

Fined for Slapping an Attorney.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Lieutenant D. F. Anglum of the United States barracks has been fined $5 in the police court for slapping Attorney W. C. Bates who, as alleged by Anglum, while defending a soldier charged with larceny at Anglum's quarters "made infamous remarks" regarding the lieutenant to the court-marshal, in the absence of Anglum.

Whisky Trust in a Tight Place.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—If Judge Gibson's decision is sustained it will end the corporate existence of the whisky trust. The attorney general will prepare the judgment of ouster, as directed by the court. This will be entered, but the defendant's appeal will operate to suspend it and nothing definite will result until the supreme court passes on the case. The proceedings today and the case in the lower courts.

To Run Against Morton.

ALBANY, Sept. 20.—Your correspondent has authority for announcing the following list of candidates for the Democratic nomination for the governorship: John Boyd Thatcher, Albany; Judge Rufus Peckham, Frederick Cook, Rochester; Daniel L. Lockwood, Buffalo; Judge Robert Earl, Judge William Gaynor, Smith Weed, Plattsburgh.

Indians on the Warpath.

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 20.—A special from Stonewall, in the Chickasaw nation, to the effect that Chief Blue and the Chickasaw negro Indians are in open rebellion. The insurrectionists have gone out on a marauding tour and are terrorizing the Indian citizens and especially the squaws.

Twenty-One Children Poisoned.

OKLAHOMA, Sept. 20.—Tremendous excitement prevails in the little village of Hazelton, about four miles from this city, on account of the poisoning of 21 small school children. At recess one of the scholars bought two or three pounds of mixed candy, part of which was colored green, which poisoned them.

Coal Lands Leased.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 20.—The vast coal property of W. C. Peel of England, situated on the Kanawha, has been leased to R. W. Petrie, a Baltimore capitalist.

NO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

The Conference Between McBride and Massillon Operators a Failure.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—President McBride has returned from Cleveland, where he held a conference at the Union club, with the Massillon operators. It is understood that nothing was accomplished in the way of a settlement. This means that the operators will not pursue the plan proposed at a recent meeting in regard to employing colored miners, who will be protected by heavily armed guards.

It is also learned that the Pittsburgh field was represented at the conference, and that an attempt was made to adjust the trouble in that district. The effort proved futile, however, as no agreement was reached.

Victim of Horrible Accident.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Sept. 20.—A horrible and distressing accident occurred in the calendar rooms of the American Strawboard company. Charles Stettler, aged 13, got his right arm caught between two calendars, and was drawn up to his body, and held in this position for five minutes before help could release him. The calendars are large hollow iron cylinders filled with steam, for drying the board as it passes over them, and the boy being held against these so long, was literally cooked from his arm pit to his hips, and when his clothing was removed large pieces of flesh came off with them. His arm was badly smashed and cooked by the steam, all of which renders his condition very precarious.

Brice Comes Out Unclothed.

Any Reference to the Senatorial Resolution Eliminated, Which Might Be Construed as Censure. A Liberal Silver Plank Adopted—The Platform.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—The nominees of the Democratic state convention are: For secretary of state, Milton J. Turner, a one-armed soldier of Guernsey county; for judge of the supreme court, James D. Erminston of Hamilton; for member of the board of public works, Harry B. Keeler of Tuscarawas; for state commissioner of common schools, Dr. J. A. Leech of Franklin.

A very dramatic scene occurred during the discussion of the plank to elect senators by ballot. John H. Clark of Mahoning declared in bitter terms that the senate was a millionaires' club, the convention going into great applause. Mr. Brice sat upon the platform looking pale as marble and impassive as stone. When Clark sat down Tom Johnson arose and said he did not believe Mr. Brice bought his way into the senate. This made the matter somewhat personal and the convention went in great confusion. The chair ruled that this proposed amendment was not in order.

This plank was not in the platform when first reported and was brought in by a minority of the convention. It passed by a vote of 467 to 328.

This is regarded as being tantamount to an indirect censure of Senator Brice. The movement was engineered by Congressman Tom Johnson and other members equally prominent from northern, northeastern and northwestern Ohio. They came here for that purpose. In their wake came Mayor Rob Bee of Cleveland, John Earley and others of the city government, who are favorable to Brice to prevent, if possible, the consummation of Mr. Johnson's design. They did prevent an open resolution of censure, but the indirect plan was successful.

The feeling as to what was coming was pretty well developed early in the meeting. When Senator Brice entered the building hisses, down near the stage, in the Cuyahoga delegation, and among the northern Ohio men generally, were heard to mingle with the very generous applause which came from other parts of the house.

Congressman Outhwaite, coming in a moment later, received great applause without hisses, making the case of Mr. Brice painfully conspicuous to his friends.

The stinger in the senatorial resolution was to have the central committee name or have a candidate for the senate named to be voted for at the next election. This was eliminated and elimination is regarded as a victory for the Brice men. As the matter stands, the convention simply endorses the plan of selecting senators.

The platform praises the efficient, economical and honest administration of President Cleveland; "declares protection a fraud," and while recognizing the benefit of the reduction of duties on imports just made by congress, favors such further reduction as can be made to the end that "purely protective duties be abolished;" declares that the McKinley law caused the business depression, reduced the revenue and led to the necessity for issuing more government bonds. Business failures, strikes, low wages, low prices for farm products are enumerated as the result of the McKinley law. Under the new law business is declared to be reviving.

"We dissent," says one plank, "from the president's views, construction and treatment of the silver question, and therefore, believe that silver should be returned to the position it occupied at money prior to its demonetization by the Republican party, and to that end we favor the unlimited free coinage of silver at the legal ratio of 16 to 1 and with equal legal tender power."

The platform denounces the last general assembly of Ohio, Governor McKinley's administration and the American Protective Association. It favors liberal pensions, a "corrupt practices" law, limiting amount of money to be expended by candidates and a law prohibiting free passes on railroads. It also favors the election of United States senators by the people.

WON ON LAND AND SEA

The Japs Expected to Now Invade China.

EUROPEAN NATIONS ARE ALARMED

A Belief in Washington That a Move Will Be Made to Stop the War—The Chinese Troops Hemmed In by the Fighting Japs.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The confirmation news received by Secretary Gresham of the defeat of the Chinese by land and sea, with the further notice that telegraphic communication between Pekin and Korea has been cut off by the Japanese. The small remnant of an army in Korea is cut off from reinforcement by sea as a result of the defeat of the Chinese fleet at the mouth of the Yalu river. They cannot communicate with their own government by wire, and as their escape from the Korean peninsula by the northern overland route is prevented by the seizure of the mountain passes by the Japanese their surrender appears to be inevitable.

The scene of the last naval engagement was at the mouth of the river forming part of the boundary between Korea and Manchuria, the latter being the greatest military province of China. The Japanese therefore are now in force on the border and coast of their enemy and an early transfer of the scene of war from Korea to Chinese soil is looked for by army officers, unless the movement should be prevented by the early advent of winter. The military experts believe that as soon as the remaining Chinese troops in Korea have surrendered the Japanese will transport the main body of their troops by sea from Ping Yang to the Manchuria coast and making a rapid advance on Mukden, the capital of the province, will soon be in position to organize a campaign on Pekin itself.

It is believed here that the Chinese forces are almost demoralized and that the only obstacle to the triumphant campaign of the Japanese, apart from the inclement winter of Northern China, is to be looked for in the interference of the great powers. There is reason to believe that the feeling is growing in Europe that the war bids fair to go beyond bounds unless some influence is brought to bear to check it, and some nations having large interests in China have taken the alarm already. They fear the result on their own interest of so overwhelming a victory by Japan that must be followed by the domination of Japanese interests and animated by commercial or territorial jealousies they are seeking a way to terminate the war.

A dispatch from Tien Tsin says the Japanese fleet commenced the attack at noon and the battle lasted until 5 p.m. The Chinese lost four ships. The Chen Yuen was sunk; the King Yuen was burned and the Chao-Yung and the Yang Wei were stranded and partly burned. The Chi Yuen, the Chinese vessel which was engaged in the fight of July 25, escaped, and it is presumed that she is safe.

The dispatch also agrees in saying that the Japanese are supposed to have lost three ships, and it adds that many Chinese were killed and wounded, among the latter being Admiral Ting, Colonel Von Hennepin and Captain Tyler, the two latter being volunteers.

A Shanghai dispatch states that the emperor of China has announced his determination to take the conduct of affairs into his own hands.

A Canning Factory Burns.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 20.—The large cannery factory at this place caught from an explosion of gasoline in the soldering department. About 100 employees were at work in the building, and some of them barely escaped with their lives, so rapidly did the flames spread. There were from 40,000 to 50,000 cans of corn and tomatoes. The loss will reach $10,000, with an insurance of $7,000. The upper story of the building was occupied as an armory by Company E, West Virginia guards, and their arms and accoutrements, including 18 tents and 3,500 rounds of ammunition, were destroyed.

THE CO-RESPONDENT KILLED.

Culmination of a Scandal Among Prominent People in Arkansas.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 20.—Dr. C. McIntosh, the co-respondent in a sensational divorce suit in which J. T. Jenkins of Sherrill, Ark., is plaintiff, was at that place filled with buckshot by Jenkins while standing among a crowd of people and almost instantly killed.

Jenkins, a few days ago, sued his wife for a divorce, on the ground of adultery with Dr. McIntosh, who is also married, while his wife at the same time filed suit for $50,000 damages against P. N. Vaughn, a wealthy planter and merchant, for slander and alienating her husband's affections, alleging that by Vaughn's libelous remarks about her relations with McIntosh, which had only been of a neighborly nature and those of a family physician to her on his part, her husband became estranged from her and deserted her.

Jenkins, a few days ago left for Texas, our return, and the shooting of McIntosh followed. The latter claimed that Jenkins on more than one occasion owing to the prominence of all the parties the various suits and the shooting have created a big sensation and more trouble is expected. Jenkins till he had attained the age of 92.

In addition to his classes in the high school he appears to have had for his private pupils some of the most eminent Scotchmen of his day.

Rev. Sir Henry Wellwood Moncreiff, a member of a Scottish family distinguished during several generations in connection both with church and state, appears to have given wonderful Sunday suppers.

"This most admirable and somewhat old fashioned gentleman was one of those who always dined between sermons, probably without touching wine. He then walked back from his small house in the east end of Queen street to his church, with his bands, his little cocked hat, his tall cane and his cardinal air; preached, if it was his turn, a sensible, practical sermon, walked home in the same style, took tea about 5, spent some hours in his study, at 9 had family prayers, at which he was delighted to see the friends of his sons, after which the whole party sat down to roasted hares, goblets of wine and his powerful talk."

Objected With a Gun.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Near Vivian, in Logan county, Samuel Brooks, colored, was shot and probably mortally wounded by Frank Roy, also colored. Brooks desired to marry the gun user's daughter, but the latter objected. He had secured a license to wed the girl, it is said, and was on his way to the church to meet her when he was met by Roy, who opened fire on him, a ball taking effect in his lungs, from which he cannot recover, his physician says. Roy was arrested and is in jail awaiting the result of the wounds.

An Unprovoked Murder.

AMERICUS, Ga., Sept. 20.—Edward Westbrook and a companion, two negroes, were hunting squirrels, left his work and joined them in the woods. Westbrook and Nixon began to joke each other about the merits of their dogs and the former becoming enraged, discharged a load of shot from his gun into Nixon's head, killing him instantly.

A Bookkeeper Suicides.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—Sewell T. Wilson, 35 years old, a bookkeeper for the Cambridge Ice company, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a .32-caliber revolver at his lodgings in Cambridgeport. Wilson was to have been married. No cause can be assigned for the deed, except that of insanity.

President Peixoto Denies It.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 20.—President Peixoto of Brazil has officially denied that there is any truth in the report circulated by a news agency that Admiral da Gama and a number of other officers have been shot in the fortress of Santa Cruz.

The Strike Nearly Ended.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 20.—Evidently the Suncock mill strike is near its end. The operatives have begun to return to work, and in the Webster and Penobscot mills all of the looms are in operation.

ODDITIES OF SCOTCHMEN.

Some Delightful Peculiarities Pointed Out by an Excellent Authority.

Some delightful oddities of Scotch character are given in Wilmot Harrison's new book, says The Scottish American.

Professor Adam Ferguson, the author of "Roman History," at whose house Burns and Scott met for the first and only time, eschewed wine and animal food, "but huge masses of milk and vegetables disappeared before him. In addition, his temperature was regulated by Fahrenheit, and often, when sitting quite comfortably, he would start up and put his wife and daughters in motion because his eye had failed on the instrument and he was a degree too hot or too cold."

Yet at the age of 72 he started for Italy with but a single companion to prepare for a new edition of his "Roman History," nor did he die till he had attained the age of 92.

Another "character" is Dr. Alexander Adam, rector of the high school and author of a work on Roman antiquities and a man of extraordinary industry.

When at college, he lived on oatmeal and small beans, with an occasional

When he had written his name over his mark, for he noticed that the others were so designated, and that they were all Murphys, some one present called him, "Mike, that gentleman is taller than Jerry Murphy, Oi think." "Ah, now," replied the other through the 2 inch stem of a T. D., "he's not"—with a rising reflection on the end of the sentence. "Yis, he is," retorted the former, "Can't Oi see Jerry's mark there on the dure?"

The traveler's attention was then called to a doorpost whereon was marked the stature of four men, all over 6 feet 4 inches in height. The tallest was Jerry Murphy, and his mark was 6 feet 5 1/2 inches. Accepting this challenge, the traveler stepped up to the doorpost and had his height marked, and, lo! it was a full half inch above that of Jerry.

The tongue of scandal is busy in the city, and several names, prominent in their own circles, are being used in connection with several questionable actions. If there isn't an explosion soon some people will burst with the information they believe themselves to hold. All stories where the names of the actors are unknown should be taken with a grain of consideration.

The white ware employees at Thompson's are confident that they can completely paralyze the yellow ware people in a game of ball, and this condition of affairs has existed for several weeks. Of course it could have but one ending, and on Saturday afternoon next they will play a game across the river. East Liverpool people can now prepare to witness a great game.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Percy Albright went to Irondale on business today.

Mrs. Fisher, of Fifth street is visiting friends in Oil City.

George C. Johnson, of Union, is in the city today on business.

J. C. Holland, of Cambridge, is the guest of Sixth street friends.

Dr. H. V. Wetherell, of Columbia, Pa., is calling on friends here.

Mrs. William Andrews, of Glenwood, is calling on friends here today.

John M. Pfeiffer, of Rochester, Pa., was in the city on business today.

H. P. Bassett and M. Weisberger, of Warren, are in the city on business today.

W. P. Herbert, of Peoria, Ill., a well known potter, is calling on friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thompson, of Salineville, returned home yesterday, after spending a few days with R. T. Robbins.

Miss Anna S. Calhoon, a popular young musician of Altoona, Pa., returned home this morning after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Howard, of Chicago, and Miss Hamilton, of Albion, Iowa, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, of Broadway, accompanied the latter to Toronto today for a visit with friends.

Mrs. William Arnold, of Pittsburgh, left this morning for Cleveland, where the family will hereafter make their home. The lady has been visiting her sister, Miss Lizzie Maas, and her cousin, J. T. King, of this city.

Not the Same Family.

E. N. Huntsman called at the NEWS REVIEW office this afternoon and desired to have it made known that the Huntsman boy who has been in the hands of the police is not a member of his family. Some people have been under that impression, and Mr. Huntsman desires to have his statement understood.

It May Does Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cts. for large bottle. At Potts drug store.

Ministers in Conference.

The nineteenth annual session of the East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church met at Warren yesterday, and at 8:30 communion service was conducted by Bishop Welden. An excellent program has been prepared for the week, and the large attendance promises to make the event notable.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Will Decide Soon.

The ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance union are discussing the matter of bringing Miss Annie Shaw, the lecturer, to this city. She already has a date in Wellsville, and it is believed that she will be here.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Stanford's Report.

Once Senator Stanford was traveling through California in his private car. The train had stopped at a small town, and the senator was leisurely strolling back and forth on the platform at the depot.

A boggeman was unloading trunks, and in doing so carelessly pitched one onto the platform, and it burst open.

The senator looked at it and remarked, "Well, that's a shame."

The boggeman impudently asked, "Do you own this trunk?" The answer came quickly, "No, young man, but I own this road." —Horseman.

Will Play in Lisbon.

The Young Men's Christian association base ball boys have decided not to play in Salineville on Saturday but have accepted a date at the county seat. They will play the club they beat at Wellsville last Saturday, and have whipped on one other occasion this year. As some of the best players in the club will make up the team New Lisbon must play better ball than it has put up this season to win out. The local boys are confident.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Potts.

Benefit social at the rink.

SALINEVILLE.

Salineville needs 20 new houses. Every one could be rented within three months.

The county commissioners have let the contract for the construction of a new bridge at city hall crossing.

Fred Irwin has sold his job printing outfit to W. R. Dutton, of the Banner, and will return to East Liverpool.

The butter famine struck Salineville in earnest Saturday. Not a pound of it could be had for any price.

Dr. F. P. Calhoun, formerly of this place but now of Canton, was here on professional business Tuesday of this week.

Saturday evening some careless or evilly inclined person or persons fired four shots into the building used by Abram Hartley as a gun shop. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley were in the shop at the time, Mrs. Hartley holding a lamp for her husband while he was working at some small piece of a gun, when the bullets came crashing through the window one by one. Before the last bullet had come they were retreating to the inner works. It was only about 8 o'clock in the evening and many persons were about in that vicinity, but heard no shots from a gun or pistol. The supposition is that the bullets were fired from a long distance and had about spent their force, or were fired from a Flober rifle nearby.

FAMILY HANDWRITING.

Experts say All of a Generation Have the Same Characteristics.

Experts in handwriting say that all the people of a single generation write alike, and it is well known that most French handwriting has a strong family likeness to the eyes of others than Frenchmen. Nearly all Chinamen of the washhouse class look alike to superficial observers, and persons unaccustomed to colored persons find difficulty in distinguishing one from another.

It needs, however, a comparison of two or three family photograph albums of 20 or 30 years ago to convince men and women of today that there are striking superficial likenesses running through Americans of a given generation. All these old albums show curious resemblances, chiefly perhaps of dress and face, but sufficiently striking for one family album at first glance to be taken for another. As page after page of each is turned over there is the same succession of men, women and children in full figure, sitting, standing, posed in groups of two or three, with hats, without hats, draped in shawls, and manifestly dressed in their best for the occasion.

The photographers of those days chose, for reasons of their own, to make full length pictures, and as they were unusually small costume counted for a great deal and helped to intensify the general likeness running the whole generation.—Philadelphia Press.

Carnot and Jean Carries.

The death of Jean Carries, the sculptor, recalls an anecdote in which he and the late President Carnot were the principal actors. The artist's busts and figures at the Champ de Mars excited the admiration of all, and they were deservedly classed in the first rank. M. Carnot, when on his visit to the salon, noticed an old man, who seemed much moved on seeing him, standing before the works of art of the sculptor. Some one said to the president, after pointing out the artist: "Here is need for reparation, M. le President. Carries is one of our most skillful men of art, and he is not yet decorated." Forthwith M. Carnot detached from the buttonhole of one of the officers of the military household in the place of a cross of the chevalier a cross of an officer of the Legion of Honor and placed it himself on the breast of Jean Carries. The next day, in The Official, the artist was named a chevalier of the order.—London Figaro.

Stanford's Report.

Once Senator Stanford was traveling through California in his private car. The train had stopped at a small town, and the senator was leisurely strolling back and forth on the platform at the depot. A boggeman was unloading trunks, and in doing so carelessly pitched one onto the platform, and it burst open.

The senator looked at it and remarked, "Well, that's a shame."

The boggeman impudently asked, "Do you own this trunk?" The answer came quickly, "No, young man, but I own this road." —Horseman.

Will Play in Lisbon.

The Young Men's Christian association base ball boys have decided not to play in Salineville on Saturday but have accepted a date at the county seat. They will play the club they beat at Wellsville last Saturday, and have whipped on one other occasion this year. As some of the best players in the club will make up the team New Lisbon must play better ball than it has put up this season to win out. The local boys are confident.

ANGELIC TEMPERs.

A CARLOAD OF TRAVELERS AND NOT A KICKER AMONG THEM.

They Had to Change Sleepers In the Middle of the Night, and Yet They Remained Good Humored—This Was an Exceptional Party, Even For Americans.

"Although Americans have the reputation of being born kickers," said the traveler, "once in awhile they give surprising exhibitions of philosophy and good nature.

"On a hot night I started on a trip up the state. I had been careful to engage my berth in the morning and had selected it in the center of the car, so I felt assured that I would be reasonably comfortable. It so happened that travel was heavy that night, and my car was crowded. To my great disgust, too, it was a very old car. I am too old a traveler to fret, however, and I went into the smoker with a calm mind. The train rolled out, and soon the porter began to make up the beds. We all turned in early, and I was in my berth before the train had got far beyond Mott Haven.

"I adjusted everything carefully, removed all my clothes, donned some nice cool pajamas and lay back on my pillow sleepily. I had just begun to doze off when I was aroused by a queer, rumbling noise. It sounded as though something was the matter with the running gear. I listened for awhile and then closed my eyes again, thinking perhaps that the noise would stop. It didn't, though, and presently others appeared to be disturbed also. Heads were poked out between the curtains, and passengers asked each other what the trouble was. The porter was summoned and interrogated, but he knew nothing that could enlighten us and said he was sure it was nothing serious. By and by some of the calmer spirits like myself felt reassured and dropped off to sleep in spite of the noise and jolting.

"I was in the midst of a dream about elevators and similar pleasant fancies when I was awakened by some body yanking at my arm. It was the porter. "I am sorry to trouble you, boss," he said, "but one of the wheels on this car has gone wrong, and the conductor is afraid we will have a smashup if we don't take the car off. You'll have to get up and get out, for we are going to run this car into the shop and put on another."

"Naturally I felt a little annoyed. When a man is sleepy, he doesn't like to be told he has got to get up and dress and fuss and bother. It isn't the easiest thing in the world to sleep in a stuffy car on a hot night anyhow, and interruptions are not apt to compose the mind. However, there was no use of kicking, and so I got up and dressed as quickly as I could, gathered my traps together and prepared to move. The car was full of people in various stages of undress, and it took some little time to clear them all out so that the car could be taken off the train. We found ourselves at Albany. We had to wait on the platform for nearly half an hour while the car was rolled back out of the way and another one brought out of the yard.

"The conductor was an amiable person and tried hard to hurry things as much as possible, which relieved the situation a great deal. In allotting space to us he came finally to an old gentleman who lived up in the country. 'I am very sorry,' he said to him, 'but I'll have to put you sir, in the stateroom. There are no more berths left.' It occurred to all simultaneously, I guess, that that meant an extra charge. 'Great Scott!' exclaimed the old gentleman, 'have I been yanked out of my sleep and put to all this discomfort to be compelled to pay double fare?' 'Oh, of course not!' said the conductor. 'Inasmuch as it is our fault, we won't charge you extra fare.' The old man smiled broadly at that, for the idea of having a stateroom all to himself was naturally agreeable, but when he came to find out later that the stateroom included the washroom and was anything but pleasant to sleep in his smile became rather sickly. After awhile things were straightened out, but it was fully an hour from the time we left Albany before we had turned into our berths again.

"Naturally you would imagine that everybody would have been ill temped after all this fuss, but the truth is I never saw a jollier lot of people in all my travels. Of course sleep was impossible for most of us after all this disturbance, so we kept up a running fire of conversation. Jokes were rattled off in a delightfully impromptu fashion, and everybody who had had any experience on sleeping cars recounted them to the edification of the others. Although we did not have any sleep, about every one who left the car the next morning wore a broad, good humored smile."

Wanted as a Soldier.

The late Colonel Burnaby told of the discovery of a woman who served as a soldier in the ranks of the army of Don Carlos in 1874. She wore the uniform and lived and fought just as the other soldiers, but a priest in whose parish she had lived identified her. Don Carlos removed her to the nurses' quarters, but she begged to be sent back to the ranks.

He laughed. "Not to the regiment of men, but when I form a battalion of women you shall be colonel!"—London Truth.
